

Corrine Phillips

MSN, RN, SANE-A

IAFN DIRECTOR AT LARGE
CANDIDATE BIO

My name is Corrine Phillips, and I am the SANE Coordinator for the Victim Service Center of Central Florida. With fourteen years of nursing experience, my career began in the NICU before I transitioned to emergency nursing. After spending a few years as a travel nurse in California, I settled in Orlando, Florida. I earned a Master's in Forensic Nursing from Duquesne University and have been a certified SANE-A for the past eight years.

Additionally, I have served as the Director at Large for the IAFN Florida Chapter for the past year and a half. My passion lies in supporting survivors of sexual violence and educating the community about prevention and resources for healing.

On a personal note, I am a new mom to seven-month-old twins. I enjoy spending time with my family, exploring new coffee shops, watching reality TV, and discovering new restaurants, as I'm an avid foodie!
